

Supreme Wealth Alliance Ultimate: Multiple Heads

Hi! I'm Manny Vloria (<http://www.vloria.net/swa-pinoy/>), your fellow regular SWA Ultimate customer, and here is your guide to understanding the Multiple Accounts strategy.

What are Multiple Accounts?

Multiple Accounts refer to a collection of 2 or more accounts, all of which are owned by you. Network marketers who are used to the binary system assume that they can maximize their SWA earnings by buying more than one SWA account (or by having “multiple heads”)

What is the most important thing I should remember when setting up multiple accounts?

You need to wait for your first SWA account to be activated, before you enroll your succeeding accounts. This is to ensure that your 2nd account will be tagged as the Direct Customer of your first account.

Resist the urge to rush things.

Why do people get Multiple Accounts?

Some people believe they will earn more. A lot tend to overlook the fact that it is a 2x2 matrix. This is not an infinite matrix, which means that you will need to promote all your heads or accounts.

Is it possible to promote all my SWA Accounts?

Yes, it is possible. Especially when you make use of internet tools such as blogs to do the promoting for you on autopilot.

You can have many blogs, and each blog will promote one of your SWA Accounts.

You can also have a single Authority Blog which randomly rotates on its pages your different SWA Accounts.

How do we create effective multiple accounts?

Okay, let's assume your first account is called username. After your first account is activated, sign up your 2nd account as a direct customer of your first account.

In other words, 2username would be the direct customer of username (your first SWA account).

In this scenario, all the efforts of 2username in attracting direct customers will benefit both 2username and username.

Under whom should I sign up my 3rd account?

Here's where it gets interesting.

If you sign up your 3rd username under your first username, then your Upline will benefit ($20, under Pay Plan 2). Your first account (username) will benefit, in terms of Pay Plan 1.

If you sign up your 3rd username under your 2nd username, then your Upline will not benefit under Pay Plan 2. It will be you who will benefit from PPlan 2.

You are not obligated to make your Upline happy, but you do have the power to make that person happier by passing up your First Account's 2nd, 3rd, and 7th Direct Customers.

Now there's another place where you can sign-up your 3rd SWA Account, and that advanced strategy is shared among the members of Team Manny Vloria via the team website or the team Facebook group.

What happens if I sign my 3rd SWA Account under my 2nd Account?

If you then proceed and grow the SWA business of your 3rd account, then that will help grow the Pay Plan 1 and Pay Plan 2 earnings of your 2nd SWA Account.

And when your 2nd SWA Account's matrix grows because of your 3rd SWA Account's performance, your 1st SWA Account (username) will also grow.

What are the challenges of having multiple SWA Accounts?

In terms of commissions, you will need to monitor each of your SWA Accounts. Hopefully, in the future, the SWA Techies will allow us to easily request for payout using a single screen, instead of having to log in many times and make multiple Requests for Payout.

How do we promote our multiple SWA Accounts?

Use the power of the internet. Build more than one blog, and use each blog to promote one particular SWA account of yours.

Please keep in mind that the content of each of your blogs should be worth reading. Otherwise, the blog might just be deleted.

How do we get dramatic, multiple payouts?

You can promote your 3rd Account until you have filled 5 slots of your matrix, then promote your 2nd Account until you have also filled 5 slots of your 2nd Account's matrix.

Then do the same for your 1st Account, but only until the 5 slots are filled.

Then... promote your 3rd Account's sixth slot.

When your 3rd Account cycles, and assuming your 2nd Account is the referrer of your 3rd Account, your 2nd Account's sixth slot will be filled and it will also cycle.

When your 2nd Account cycles, it will reappear in your 1st Account's matrix. Your 1st Account will immediately cycle.

Sa madaling salita, kapag ganito po ang sequence ninyo, isang customer po ninyo ay posibleng maging responsable para sa TATLONG cycles po ninyo... or $210 in Pay Plan 1 commissions.
